Hack No. 131 had an accident yesterday. The horse was trotting along on Merchant street, near the postoffice, when something seemed to go wrong. The animal fell right over in the street with no apparent cause and breaking one of the shafts, lay on the ground for a long time as if stunned. The shaft was mended and the horse trotted off again, as if nothing had happened.

RUMORS OF WAR.

Joke Played on Australia's Passengers.

When the Australia arrived off the harbor yesterday morning she was obliged to wait until a sailing vessel came out of the channel. Some of the ladies aboard could not understand the cause of the delay until a joker told one of them in confidence that the pilot had brought out information that there was trouble on shore, and the steamer would be unable to dock.

Then there was consternation, for in less than a minute every lady passenger was discussing the outlook with her neighbor and shuddering at the probable result. A few minutes later, the guns from the Naniwa began to boom in honor of President Dole's visit the ladies, speechless, "sought the seclusion which the cabin grants." They were not satisfied with explanations of the joke until they reached shore and found everything quiet.

Wore Holokus.

Mike Doyle and Thomas Fox, two sailors from the Reaper, have gone to Oahu jail to work out a fine of $2 and $1 costs, respectively, for drunkenness, and they went in as happy a mood as they were in when captured Monday about midnight.

At that time they were found wandering about the streets in an aimless manner. Doyle with a lace-trimmed white holoku on wrong side out, and Fox with a black holoku in his hands.

When the men appeared in the Police Court yesterday morning, they were both arrayed in the holokus. They pleaded not guilty to the charge of drunkenness, saying that when they were arrested they were making "as straight as possible" for their ship. At any rate, they were each fined $2 and $1 costs. The captain of the Reaper would not pay their fine, and they had to go on the reef.

Our preparation is the finest quality of castor oil MADE PALATABLE by a new process. There is none of the oily taste to it, nothing objectionable to children who usually prefer CANDY to MEDICINE.

It is good for Babies

excellent for children and unequalled for grown persons. It acts upon the liver, stomach and bowels and purifies the blood and consequently the complexion.
